Oversight and Investigations Team

Raben has launched a Government Oversight and Investigations Team to assist organizations and leaders in preparing for and responding to oversight and investigations by Congress, the administration, state officials, and third-party entities. At a time when attacks on nonprofit, philanthropic, and private-sector entities are already increasing, Raben is ready to help.

Powering good work.

our approach

At Raben, our work isn't transactional; we are driven to build lasting policy change centered around shared values and a collective vision for a better world. We lead by example, going above and beyond to support our clients' goals. Our work to improve public policy and funding, change cultural narratives, build coalitions, and fill unmet needs in society is helping to shift power and influence in America.

Our approach to oversight and investigations is built on these same transformational principles. We work hand-in-hand with clients to develop solutions tailored to your specific needs that are built not only to respond but also to advance your own story in strategic and compelling ways. We have deep relationships with the key actors and institutions, and years of experience to understand the context — the risks and the opportunities — as you navigate this environment. And by insisting on strategy before tactics, we can deliver results that do more than just get you from one day to the next. Learn more about our approach here.

Here's how we can help your organization with oversight and investigations:

-  Risk Assessment
Working with you to identify areas of potential focus for internal improvement.
-  Messaging
Identifying compelling narratives to help convey your core values and avoid misrepresentation.
-  Hill Tracking
Monitoring hot topics, tracking investigations and hearings, and informing you of areas of focus for policy leaders.
-  Congressional and Administrative Advocacy
Working with Congress and agencies to respond to inquiries and prepare for hearings.
-  Strategy
Building a cohesive plan to prepare for and respond to oversight inquiries.
-  Coalition Building
Developing and organizing coalitions to respond to investigative overreach.

We're a smart, diverse, and experienced group of people. Raben is built differently. As a firm with a majority of people of color, a majority of women, and a significant LGBTQ+ cohort, we are inclusive, recognizing that talent is equally distributed among all people — but access and opportunity are not. Our people want to build a more humane, just, and equitable society. It's why we work tirelessly to shift power to communities and people who are often excluded or overlooked. We are Raben.

Along with this diversity of views, we bring decades of first-hand experience at the highest levels of Congress, the executive branch, state government, and nonprofit organizations. We understand what makes government tick. We use our networks and deep roots in government and public affairs to help you strategically connect to policymakers across the nation, from Capitol Hill to the seats of state and local government. Our senior team of oversight experts has spent over 50 years in federal oversight and investigations, including efforts related to education, judicial nominations, civil and voting rights, criminal justice, immigration, law enforcement, eminent domain, the rise of violent white supremacy, and more.
